PRESS RELEASE

Data Storage Upgrade

Marlborough, MA, June 1, 2009 – Blue Cod Technologies, Inc. of Marlborough, MA, is pleased to announce the successful completion of their data storage capacity upgrade project.

Working with NetApp, a company that creates storage and data management solutions to help customers accelerate business and achieve outstanding cost efficiency, Blue Cod has chosen their storage appliance to augment their existing storage network capacity. This will allow Blue Cod to continue to add storage resources dynamically within each of their customers' hosted server environments and do so with improved cost effectiveness.

"This is a much more cost effective and dynamic solution for storing our customers' data," said Mike Jiencke, Blue Cod Technical Services Director. "Our storage requirements have increased dramatically over the years so it was time to examine options."

Blue Cod currently houses their entire customer data and storage environment at offsite co-location facilities. The diversity of the capabilities built into the Netapp storage appliance will allow Blue Cod to offer increasingly cost effective storage and backup solutions to customers. The project has added a storage appliance capable of containing over 400 terabytes of raw data storage, while offering savings achieved through enhanced data de-duplication and lower cost communications and storage mediums.

According to Jiencke, the company looked at a number of storage solution alternatives and ultimately chose Netapp to expand the Blue Cod storage network. NetApp was chosen because the product best fit the Blue Cod criteria of providing lower cost of ownership, improved data de-duplication, and replication to remote sites.
